

Global Reporting Initiative – index of contents

The preparation of this report is based on the guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI). GRI has set itself the objective of making global corporate reporting more transparent and more comparable (www.globalreporting.org). The guidelines cover reporting on overriding matters such as sustainability objectives and strategy. Furthermore, management approaches (DMA) and numerous performance indicators in the fields of economics (EC), environment (EN), product responsibility (PR), labor practices (LA), human rights (HR) and society (SO) should be disclosed. The following table includes a list for specially interested parties concerning the sections of the report in which GRI indicators are described for Geberit. Information on further GRI indicators for Geberit can be found in the sustainability section of the website (www.geberit.com). The present report and the detailed GRI Content Index in the Internet cover the GRI guidelines in full, thus fulfilling the A-level of the latest GRI G3 guidelines. This was checked and approved by GRI. In this way, Geberit wishes to underline its role as a leader in sustainability.
